HONGKONG VOLUNTEERS.

Gentlemen willing to take an active part in the formation of the proposed Volunteer force are invited to put themselves in communication with the Recruiting Committee appointed by His Excellency the Governor at the public meeting held at the City Hall on the 19th December last.
The members of the Committee are:—
J. J. FRANCIS, Esq., Q.C., Chairman.
The Honourable J. H. STEWART LOCKHART.
Lieut.-Colonel J. JERRARD.
Captain MCCALLUM., R.N.V.
J. ARMSTRONG, Esq.
who will be found at their offices daily from 2 to 4 p.m. prepared to give all needful explanations and to enrol members.
The Committee will sit regularly on Tuesdays and Fridays at the Chambers of Mr. FRANCIS, Q.C., Bank Buildings, from 4 to 5 p.m.
The force will be on the same footing as are Volunteers in England, that is to say: They are liable in case of war to be called up for active service and will then be under military command and subject to military law, receiving the same pay as regularly enlisted soldiers, and being entitled to pensions for wounds, &c., &c. They will not be required to serve out of the colony and will be led by their own officers. In peace time, they are at liberty to leave at any time on 14 days' notice; will only be under military command when voluntarily exercising or on duty together with the regular troops; will be subject to such regulations as to drill, discipline, and efficiency as His Excellency the Governor may appoint, and will be annually inspected by a regularly deputed Military Officer.
The Government will defray all expenses of the Corps other than the cost of uniforms of commissioned officers.
It is desired to establish one Battery of Artillery and 3 Machine Gun Companies, all the members to be trained also in the use of the rifle or carbine. Pony draft for both field and machine guns will be provided to and from place of exercise or parade.
It is suggested that friends and acquaintances should combine to form a gun detachment of 12 men, or a half company (or Section of Field Artillery) of 24 men, or even a complete Company or Battery.
The officers of the Battery when complete will consist of 1 Captain and 3 Lieutenants and those of each company of 1 Captain and 2 Lieutenants. Such officers to be elected by their own men, the Lieutenants by the half companies or sections, the Captain by the company or battery. Such election to be subject to the approval of His Excellency the Governor.
The uniform of the Field Battery will remain as at present, that of the machine gun companies will be a matter for future consideration, a working dress only being provided for the ensuing drill season.
One month in the year (the month of March being at present proposed) will be set apart for the annual training, when drills will take place twice a day. Volunteers will also be expected to attend at least one parade monthly during the rest of the year. The minimum number of attendances and other requirements to enable a Volunteer to be deemed efficient will be hereafter fixed by the Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Major General.
Gentlemen are reminded that the proposal for obtaining a vote of the Legislative Council for funds to establish and maintain the corps is conditional on the enrolment of not less than 120 Volunteers by the 31st of January instant, and the Committee hope, for the credit of the colony, that this number will be largely exceeded.

With which is incorporated
THE CHINA DIRECTORY.

This is the
THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL ISSUE,
and will be found, as usual, to show an advance on preceding years both in fullness and accuracy of information.

The DIRECTORY covers the whole of the ports and cities of the Far East, from Penang to Vladivostock, in which Europeans reside.

Not only is the Directory as full and complete in each case as it can be made, but each Colony, Port, or Settlement is prefaced by a DESCRIPTION, carefully revised each year, some of which will serve as accurate GUIDES for the Tourist, giving every detail in connection with the places, their History, Topography, &c., &c.

The Information afforded in these Descriptions alone would suffice to fill an ordinary volume, consisting of over EIGHTY highly interesting articles, packed with facts concisely set out and containing statistics of the TRADE of each Country and Port.

The work contains Directories and Descriptions of

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JANUARY 27TH, 1893.

THE policy of all the Eastern Banks at the present moment is to keep their funds in a liquid state, as it is termed. In view of the uncertainty attending the future of silver and the scare of last year the soundness of this policy admits of no dispute. We are living in critical times, financially, and banking institutions do well to keep themselves in perfect readiness to weather any storm that may burst upon them. But this policy, dictated by the instinct of self-preservation, is in the meantime having a disastrously paralysing effect on local trade and enterprise. Having before their eyes the possibility of exchange falling to 2s. or 1s. 6d. the Banks cannot afford to run the risk of bringing out their gold deposits to the East, and their silver funds being fully employed, much legitimate banking business has to be turned away from their doors, and their would-be clients look in vain for accommodation elsewhere. Even advances on goods in godowns are not always obtainable without difficulty, and as for advances on the shares in which so much of our local capital is locked up, as a rule the Banks decline, unless in exceptional cases, to take in any more scrip; they have no objection to shares already deposited with them being transferred from A's account to B's, but neither A nor B will be allowed to draw against a new line, for the Banks cannot give more than they possess. Thus men who have carried shares with their own money and kept the scrip in their own safe, find when they are temporarily pinched by the hard times, that the documents are practically useless as securities and that if they want to raise money on them they can only do so by selling out, which at the present moment must mean in almost every case a heavy sacrifice. There can be no appreciable recovery in values while this state of affairs prevails, nor can the general trade of the place again become buoyant until banking facilities are more freely extended to the parties engaged in it.

If a loan company could be established on a purely silver basis it would at once command a large and profitable business. All the banks doing business here at present are hampered by the gold difficulty. The Hongkong and Shanghai Bank has its capital nominally in silver and its accounts are kept in dollars, but it declares its dividends in sterling, a large proportion of its stock is held in England, it takes gold deposits, and the quotations for its shares are really controlled by the London market; its principal business is exchange and its loan business, profitable as it may be, is a branch which under present circumstances it does not seek to extend. The policy pursued by the Chartered Bank is much the same as that followed by the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, and being entirely on a gold basis it has if anything to follow out the policy rather more severely. The Bank of China, Japan, and the Straits, from which great things were hoped, was unfortunately started with its capital in gold and its head office in London instead of in the Far East, and it has consequently been unable adequately to fill the void it was called into existence for. The National Bank of China has also been started on a gold basis and is necessarily hampered by the difficulties and dangers attendant thereon.

With gold appreciating at its present rate it is an altogether unsuitable medium in which to make advances in silver-using countries. The holders of the yellow metal are afraid to turn it into dollars to be lent out at interest, because they do not know how little the dollar may be worth when the time for repayment comes, while borrowers, on the other hand, cannot afford to contract obligations in gold, not knowing how dearly the ultimate discharge may cost them. There has been some talk of the establishment of a branch of one of the Indian banks in Hongkong, and the relief that would thus be afforded to the present stringency would no doubt be very welcome. But preferable to that would be the formation, if possible, of a local institution confining its business entirely to advances on merchandise and securities. The existing banks adequately meet all requirements in exchange business, so that there would be no necessity for the new institution to enter into competition with them there, and if it confined itself entirely to a loan business it would probably receive a welcome from all the older institutions, to whose prosperity it would indirectly act as a feeder. Not being in a position themselves to relieve the existing stringency they would be glad to see relief come from any quarter, for anything that promotes the prosperity of the Colony must necessarily promote that of the banks also.

It would appear that the police, after for years neglecting their duty and allowing the colony to be overrun with mangy mongrel curs, have, in consequence of a sad death from hydrophobia which might never have occurred had the law been intelligently carried out, now allowed their zeal to outrun their discretion. They first take up a lot of dogs without advertising their intention of doing so, when the law has been for many years a dead letter, and now they take them up apparently without any law whatever to justify them. On Wednesday four dogs were, we understand, taken from the neighbourhood of the Mosque, at least two of them having collars with names. One of them, a fine foxhound belonging to a gentleman in Mosque Terrace, had on when we saw it being brought back from pound, a collar with the name most distinct, yet the owner's son, who went for it, tells us that a demand was made for three dollars, which being resisted was not insisted on. This was seemingly a cool attempt to add one injury to another. Another dog, a spaniel belonging to a resident in Robinson Road, had on a collar and the only excuse that could be made was that the name through wear was partially illegible. Yet he was made to pay three dollars and only got the dog back after a great deal of unnecessary trouble. Another objectionable action is the taking of those dogs all through the dirty slums, which are infested with diseased Chinese dogs, to the West Point Station. In another case a dog sitting quietly by a lady's chair outside a private house was taken up by a lukong in spite of the chair coolies' statement that it belonged to their mistress. Many other cases are reported of the arbitrary way in which the law is being attempted to be learried out. The fact is that Chinese lukongs are utterly unfitted to exercise the powers entrusted to them, and some of their superior officers, instead of rectifying the mistakes of the lukongs and treating the public with the courtesy and consideration which is due, attempt to justify their unwarrantable action. We are informed that the police are following a most vicious system, that of giving a reward to the street coolies for dogs that are taken by them to the station. The result of course is that all the European dogs that they can catch, no difficult matter for a lot of coolies at a street corner, are taken up, while the diseased Chinese dogs are not touched. It would be more to the purpose if these coolies were taken in charge and punished for interfering with private property, especially when the animals they take possession of have collars with names. The system of invoking the aid of street coolies is preposterous in the extreme and utterly unjustifiable. Running about in company with one of the dogs that was seized was a half-bred animal without a collar of any kind, yet it was not taken, and yesterday could be seen anywhere about town scores of Chinese dogs, "mongrels, puppies, whelps, and hounds, and curs of low degree," wandering about without collars. Let the law be carried out, but let it be in an intelligent and above all in a fair manner. The Hongkong police have always been noted for carrying out their duties by fits and starts, at one time no action at all, at others absurd overaction, general neglect interrupted by periodic raids carried on with little discretion, as for instance in the cases of gambling and street traffic. We are getting tired of hearing globe-trotters say that Hongkong is the worst policed town they have ever seen. We hope at least that the arrest of dogs will be at once taken out of the hands of Chinese constables and street coolies, and that the higher officers will cease attempting to back up their high handed behaviour. If necessary let us have a separate dog department as in Singapore.

The troopship Tamar leaves on her homeward voyage on Sunday.

The delivery of the French mail was begun at 10.20 a.m. yesterday.

Admiral Fremantle leaves to-morrow in the Impériouse for Bangkok and Singapore.

The Russian flagship Dmitry Donskoy arrived here yesterday morning on her way to Europe.

The O. & O. steamer Gaelic, with mails, &c., left San Francisco for this port via Yokohama on the 24th inst.

Admiral Humann, the French Admiral on the China Station, returned from Saigon yesterday by the M. M. steamer Sighalien.

At the vestry meeting at the Cathedral yesterday evening Mr. E. J. Ackroyd created some amusement, even within the sacred precincts, by inadvertently referring to the seatholders of the Cathedral as the shareholders.

The Douglas steamer Fokien was yesterday gaily dressed, and suspended between the masts were the figures "300" in evergreens, the fact being that the stout little vessel has just completed her 300th voyage on the coast.

The remarks of the Judge, on the duties of auditors, in the case of the New Oriental Bank Corporation, heard in the Chancery Division last month, and a report of which we publish in another column, may be commended to the perusal of local auditors.

The Times of Ceylon is apprehensive of the effect of the new proposals to alter the basis of the Indian currency. It declares that "should any attempt be made to force a gold coinage, or a currency based on gold, upon us, the whole strength of public opinion must be used to avert so serious an evil."

The paragraph which appeared in our issue of Wednesday with reference to the restraint of the wrong person on board the Tamar as a lunatic gives, we are informed, an exaggerated account of what was really a trivial incident. There was some foundation for the story, but, like a snowball, it had grown as it rolled, until it reached us in the form in which it was published.

The Free Press understands that the Singapore Chamber of Commerce may at an early meeting consider whether it is possible to take any action in view of the present state of Eastern trade as affected by exchange, and upon the question of the Eastern currency. It is not anticipated that any definite resolution can be come to, but it is at least proper that the question should be discussed, even if it be found that nothing more can be done than to say that nothing can be done.

A Committee having been appointed to prepare the exhibits from this Colony for the Imperial Institute it is highly desirable that the best show possible should be made. There appears to be an impression abroad that Hongkong industries and products will make but a poor display, which we believe to be an erroneous idea. It may be remembered that we published on the occasion of the colony's Jubilee an article on this subject from the pen of Mr. Sc. John H. Hancock, C.E., which is suggestive of the directions in which the Committee might seek for exhibits.

The following incident, reported by the Straits Times, showing how informers attempt to get up cases for the sake of the reward, is instructive:—A Chinaman went to the Opium Farmer and laid information about some contraband chandoo which he said would be found in an opium shop at Orchard Road. One of the Farm officers went with the man and searched the premises high and low without success. Just as he was leaving, he caught the informer in the very act of depositing a tin of chandoo on the floor. The man was arrested, and another tin of chandoo was found on his person.

At Singapore on the night of the 15th inst., the Free Press says, the residents in lower Queen Street were much alarmed at cries for help which proceeded from the house of Mr. Wm. Corby, the Government engineer for launches and lighthouses. The alarm was caused by the sudden appearance in the house of a large black dog wearing a collar but no muzzle. Mr. Corby's attempt to drive it away simply increased its fury, for the brute immediately rushed at him, and it is said that in the struggle the dog knocked him down, but fortunately Mr. Corby rushed upstairs without even a scratch. When the alarm of a mad dog was raised, a number of gentlemen with loaded guns rushed to the house and with two shots killed the animal. It would be interesting to know whether the dog was really mad.

A sad accident occurred at Singapore on the 15th inst. which terminated in the death of a lady named Mrs. Russell, on the 17th. Mrs. Russell, who is the wife of the Government printer at Selangor, came to Singapore in order to make arrangements for the schooling of two of her children. She went out for a drive to the Waterworks, Thompson Road, on Sunday afternoon, with her infant, and, on returning, the horse bolted. It is said that Mrs. Russell with her infant leaped from the carriage, and both were rendered unconscious. They were taken to Bargenay Lodge, where Mrs. Russell was staying, and professional advice was called in which showed that both lady and child were suffering from concussion of the brain. The infant has apparently recovered, but Mrs. Russell died.

The following appeared in the Times commercial article of 21st Dec.:—The trustees for the secured debenture-holders of the New Oriental Bank Corporation wish it to be known that they have been proceeding with the sale of the bank's premises, important and valuable as they are and widely separated in position. The trustees have proceeded so far as to feel perfectly sure that the full payment of the mortgage debentures so secured with interest is merely a matter of time, and they will pay on Jan. 9th next a dividend of 15 per cent. on the whole of such debentures. All debenture-holders who have not already sent in the particulars of their mortgage bonds will oblige by doing so without delay to 40, Threadneedle Street, E.C. The bonds must be lodged three clear days for examination.

A Sikh who had been dismissed his regiment in Hongkong was sent back to India and recently arrived in Calcutta. He petitioned the Viceroy, we read, but finding that nothing came of it, presented himself at Government House, and asked for an interview to lay his case personally before his Excellency. In this he was also unsuccessful. On Saturday, as the Vicegeral party were leaving the racecourse, the Sikh sprang out of the crowd and, seizing the reins of the leading horses, brought the carriage in which were seated the Viceroy, Lady Lansdowne, and Captain Herbert to a stand-still. Captain Herbert alighted and, securing the man, handed him over to the mounted police. Nothing was found on him. The Sikh will be sent back to his country, and his case will be enquired into by the proper authorities.

The Telegraph Companies advertise an increase of rates to cover their loss by exchange.

The Impériouse went out for a cruise yesterday morning, accompanied by the Redpole. The flagship returned in the afternoon.

The Straits Times understand that a petition is now being extensively signed by the leading members of every section of the Chinese community to be presented to the Secretary of State, praying that the tenure of office held by H.E. Sir Cecil C. Smith as Governor of the Straits, which expires this year, may be extended.

The Football Club met H. Company Shropshire L. I. yesterday at Happy Valley in the Association game. Play was of a fast description. Markham had the ball several times near the Shropshires' goal, but fate or fortune was against him and he failed to score. Slade played a rattling game; but the scientific play of the soldiers' forwards was too good for him as for the others, and the match resulted in a victory for H Company by three goals to nil

To-morrow evening Mr. Frecar gives his first entertainment in the City Hall. There is likely to be a crowded house to witness a performance which is described as remarkably diverting. Mr. Frecar has just completed a very successful tour through India, in which country he seems to have been enthusiastically received, and enjoyed the patronage of the highest dignitaries in the land. On Saturday evening H.E. Sir William and Lady Robinson are expected to be present, and a capital evening of burlesque is anticipated.

Our new Minister to the Emperor of China, Mr. Nicholas Roderick O'Conor, C.B., C.M.G., is, writes a London evening paper, one of the many distinguished men the United Kingdom owes to the Emerald Isle. The joke that all Irishmen are descendants of the Milesian kings has no application in his case, for he is lineally descended from the Sir Hugh O'Connor, an acknowledged representative of the last kings of Ireland. The head of a younger branch of the great house of the O'Conor Don, he was born nearly fifty years ago, a third son, but by the deaths of his two brothers came into the family estate of Dunkermott, consisting of three thousand odd acres of land, the annual value of which the Land Commissioners have cut down from seventeen hundred to twelve hundred pounds. Mr. O'Conor, like so many other men in the diplomatic service, seems to have been everywhere. He is no stranger to Peking, as he was Secretary and Acting Chargé d'Affaires, until the arrival of Sir John Walsham, in 1886. The value of the post is £3,500 a year. He is a Roman Catholic, and is married to a cousin of the Duke of Norfolk.

The annual general meeting of the seatholders and subscribers of St. John's Cathedral was held yesterday afternoon in the vestry. The Right Rev. Bishop Burdon presided and there were also present Rev. R. F. Cobbold, Mr. Fielding Clarke, Hon. W. M. Goodman, Mrs. Goodman, Mr. E. J. Ackroyd, Hon. F. A. Cooper, Mr. Stafford Northcote, Mr. Alford, Mr. C. Ford, Mr. G. B. Dodwell, Mr. Pierce, Mr. J. R. Crook, and others. The report and statement of accounts, which showed a balance in hand of $2,146.51, were adopted without discussion. The following gentlemen were elected by ballot to serve on the Church Body—Mr. Fielding Clarke, Hon. F. A. Cooper, Mr. E. J. Ackroyd, Hon J. J. Keswick, Mr. C. Ford, and Mr. G. B. Dodwell. As auditor Mr. J. G. Bird was elected. Some conversation took place on the question of fees to be charged for the erection of monuments in the church, it being doubtful to some gentlemen whether the Ordinance made the imposition of such a fee obligatory or permissive. Mr. Goodman explained that the matter was quite at the discretion of the Church Body, and in such a case as the Bokhara memorial no fee need be charged. Before the meeting concluded Mr. E. J. Ackroyd in a few well chosen words expressed the thanks of the Church Body and the congregation to the Right Rev. Bishop Burdon for the assistance he had given to the Cathedral in conducting the services while the Rev. C. D. Hamilton was absent. The Bishop acknowledged the compliment, saying that he had been very glad to fill the breach, and indeed he only regarded it as the performance of his duty.

The following is the programme of the tour of the Austrian Archduke Franz Ferdinand after leaving India:—In the middle of February the Archduke and his suite will re-embark on the Kaiserin Elisabeth and leave for Java. From Batavia, where the steamer will arrive at the end of February, excursions will be arranged in the interior of the country. In the middle of March, Port Darwin, the first harbour of the Australian Continent, will be reached, from where the journey will be continued through the Torres Straits. On April 1st the Imperial guest arrives at Sydney, where again festivities and excursions will be organised in his honour. After a stay of 10 days at Sydney the steamer will leave for a visit to the interesting islands in the Pacific Ocean. First the French convict colony New Caledonia will be visited. Then the journey is continued to the Fiji Archipelago, whereas stay is made on April 20th at Suva. Then the Solomon Islands, New Guinea, the Torres Straits, and the Dutch Moluccas will be visited. In Amboina and Sulu the Archduke will have an opportunity to see the magnificence of the Malayan Princes. Then follows the visit to the Kingdom of Siam. The Kaiserin Elisabeth will land at Bangkok on June 19th. The stay of 10 days will hardly be sufficient for all the festivities with which the King of Siam likes to honour such high European visitors. On June 29th the Archduke will leave for Hongkong, from where excursions to Canton and the Portuguese colony of Macao will be arranged. On July 6th Shanghai will be reached, and on July 16th the Archduke will for the first time touch at Nagasaki, Japanese ground, and on July 23rd he will arrive in Yokohama. At Tokyo the Archduke will stay during a fortnight with the Emperor at the Imperial Palace. On August 6th the Archduke will leave the Kaiserin Elisabeth and return to Europe via the American Continent. The Kaiserin Elisabeth will return through the Suez Canal.

The following items are from the London and China Express of the 23rd ult.:—

The following appointment has been made at the Admiralty:—Assistant Paymaster F. Bolting, to the Impériouse, to date December 17.

Twenty pounds reward is offered by Mr. F. A. Walton, of No. 5, Moorgate Street, London, E.C., to the first person who furnishes to him correct information of the present residence of Henry John Loftus, Esq. (late of Her Majesty's Diplomatic Service). Mr. Loftus was Third Secretary of the British Legation in Tokyo from 1874 to 1875, when he resigned.

The death is announced of Colonel David Henry Trail, of the Royal Engineers. He served throughout the Chinese Campaign of 1860, being present at the action at Sinho, the capture of Tangku, and being engaged with the storming party at the fall of the Taku Forts. He afterwards had charge of the demolition of the forts on the south side of the Peiho, and received for his services the Chinese medal with clasp.

The question of transit passes in the Two Kwang provinces seems likely to receive the attention it deserves; as we understand that the Liverpool, London, Bradford, and Glasgow Chambers of Commerce have also addressed the Foreign Office in support of the letter addressed to Lord Rosebery by the China Association on the subject. We have repeatedly called attention to the utter neglect of the treaty stipulations by the Government of the Southern Viceroyalty, and trust that the pointed representations made by the Association will lead to the question being taken energetically in hand.

An agreement has been come to between the Imperial Government and the Norddeutsche Lloyd as to the subvention and the charge of the Lloyd's steamer traffic. The Mediterranean line, according to the agreement, has to be given up, for which the Lloyd is to receive m.400,000 less than before. The steamers of the main line, outward and homeward bound, for postal purposes are in future to call at Naples instead of Brindisi, and the loss of time caused by taking over the post-bags at Naples is to be overcome by a faster run to Colombo. For calling at Naples the company is to be paid m.100,000 a year, so that the yearly subvention will be less by m.300,000 only in the result. The line to Samoa is also to be given up, and in its place a branch line is to be created, which is to run from Singapore via Netherlands East India to New Guinea.

INCREASE IN THE ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN EGYPT.

The Euphrates lands the Devonshire Regiment, from Burmah, at Ismailia. The Tyne takes 250 men of the South Wales Borderers to Egypt. The Second Battalion of the South Lancashire Regiment, from Malta, and the Black Watch, from Gibraltar, now on the way to Mauritius, are also ordered to Egypt.

The increase in the army of occupation is limited to two battalions.

The English, Austrian, and German press approve of the action of Great Britain in Egypt.

GREAT BRITAIN AND MOROCCO.

The Tangier difficulty is finally settled.

AFTER THE FROST.

In order to observe the effect of the late cold wave on the insect life of the colony, the undersigned spent the afternoon of the 24th in the Happy Valley and the adjacent country, noting every insect on the wing. The weather was bright, warm, and sunshiny, and on such a day last year from 20 to 25 species of butterflies would have been observed. This year, however, insects have been far less plentiful, many of the common species not having put in an appearance; but even a fortnight ago the beautiful blue-glossed Euploea superba, the green-spotted Danais similis, and the red-and-black D. genutia, with a fair sprinkling of other species, were to be seen in considerable numbers flitting along the sunny roads, or basking in the sunshine on the bright scarlet heads of the Poinsettias in the gardens. The warm sunshine, too, had tempted out some of the species of Papilio, or swallow-tailed butterflies, the chief ornament of our island insect-fauna, and there seemed a fair prospect of remunerative collecting at the end of the month.

All this is now changed. Our walk revealed the already suspected fact that nearly the whole of the butterflies on the wing had been killed by the cold wave, the very few species we observed being almost without exception, fresh specimens which had emerged from the chrysalis within the last few days. Not a single specimen of E. superba or D. genutia was seen; and of the abundant D. similis, three only, one much battered and worn, the other two quite fresh, were observed. The little yellow butterflies of the genus Terias, which were plentifully on the wing before the frost, were now entirely absent, and of the white Pieris canidia only two freshly emerged specimens were noted. The tawny-brown Cupha erymanthis, also generally plentiful at this season, showed up as a solitary worn specimen. Two fine examples of the blue-banded Vanessa charonia, quite fresh, were basking on the hot stones, as is their wont, and were the only insects we saw worth taking, and to this proceeding they objected, and are probably still thereabouts.

Of the smaller butterflies a little brown Mycalesis appeared to have resisted the cold better than any other species, and was as plentiful in its shady haunts as usual, though it is an essentially tropical genus. The native little red-brown Abisara kausambii (?) was scarce, but those seen were quite fresh, as were the little tailed blue Lampides boetica, and a silvery blue Lycæna, usually abundant in grassy places, but now quite rare.

Wasps, bees, and flies had almost disappeared, and so had ants and grasshoppers, and not a single specimen of the hostile tribe was observed.

In the Gardens there did not appear much damage from the frost to trees and shrubs, the Hibiscus rosasinensis having suffered most, its leaves being much wilted; while the Abutilons and Poinsettias were also slightly frost-bitten. Of the wild or introduced plants the chief sufferer was the Lantana camara, the blossoms of which are so attractive to insects all over the tropics, and here not least so; almost every leaf on some of the shrubs was blackened and killed, and hanging to one of the twigs a large green hawk-moth caterpillar, frozen to death, testified to the severity of the cold, even at this low elevation (100 feet).

Crossing over to Kowloon in the evening we saw one fine fresh specimen of the handsome brown butterfly Melanitis leda flitting about in the evening twilight according to its well-known habit.

The most interesting phenomenon we noticed was the torpidity of the sensitive plant, Mimosa pudica, which had begun to put out new leaves. Some of these leaves still look green and healthy, but were found to have lost most of their irritability. It required vigorous stroking or knocking to make the leaflets close, and the plant could be plucked without the leaf-stalks reflexing. If the branch were then very vigorously shaken the petioles would bend downwards, but the effort seemed to exhaust the plant, and the leaves hung perfectly flaccid, so that if the stem were held upright the leaves hung straight down, but on turning the plant upside down the leaves fell over. The effect was as if the leaves were hung on cotton threads instead of being attached to stiff petioles.

The total number of species of butterflies seen was 8, and of individuals under 20. Under ordinary circumstances about 25 species would be seen and individuals by the hundred.

TRAINING NOTES.

[FROM A CORRESPONDENT.]

Since writing my last I have been carefully watching the work being done on the course, but up to Wednesday morning there was nothing but trotting work and occasional quarter-mile spins done. I was hoping to see the entries out by this time so that I could give a short description of all the ponies under training and their probable prospects, but as the entries are not yet before me I have to stop over this until my next. I got on the course on Wednesday morning just at six o'clock and found the $4,000? Sums, however small, will be gratefully accepted.

We have to acknowledge the gift of a bagatelle board from a lady in England which has already proved a great attraction.

The night school held twice a week at the Chaplain's residence has had an attendance of 754. Mrs. Goldsmith has been ably assisted since last April by Mrs. Edward Malcolm.

The annual tea and meeting was held on December 27th; 140 seamen of the Royal Navy and Merchant Service sat down to the repast which was served in the Sailors' Home.

The meeting, which was held in the reading room afterwards, was presided over by the Right Reverend Bishop Burdon, who, in the course of his remarks, alluded with pleasure to the fact that this was the 7th anniversary gathering which he had attended. The Reverend R. F. Cobbold (chaplain of St. John's Cathedral) gave an address. The Chaplain proposed votes of thanks to the Indian, as also to Mr. Moir (Supt. of the Sailors' Home), and Mrs Moir for their kind assistance in all the arrangements of the tea. Mr. W. Tarn thanked the Bishop for presiding. The report was read by Mr. E. Malcolm (Seamen's Reader) and showed the following statistics:—

Ships visited 1,479;

Services and Bible Readings afloat 107, with an approximate attendance of 1,526 men;

Morning Prayers at the Seamen's Reading Room attended by 4,702;

Church Services attended by about 5,215 seamen; including 209 seamen communicants;

Bags of Reading sent away to sea 122;

Letters written by Seamen in the Reading Room, 585;

Books borrowed from the Library, 1,380;

Temperance Men enrolled, 337;

Mission Helper enrolled 1, and Mission Associates 6;

The Mission Launch Dayspring has been the means of rescuing 1,268 men ashore to church on Sundays, and 2,150 men ashore to the meetings on Tuesdays and Fridays.

The Kowloon Institute has had 1,973 visits from men of the Royal Navy, Merchant Service, and Water Police. During the evening Christmas carols were sung by the choir and others. The meeting throughout was enthusiastic and closed with hearty cheers for the lady helpers and the Bishop.

A tea and meeting was also held at the Kowloon Institute on December 30th. 50 or 60 sat down to tea; about 80 were present at the meeting afterwards. This was the first tea and meeting held in the Institute since it was opened on September 2nd of the previous year. Mr. Sydney B. J. Skertchly, F.G.S., gave a New Years address. Speeches were also made by the Reverend D. Hamilton (Military Chaplain), Messrs. W. Tarn, F. A. Brown, E. Malcolm and H. J. B. White. The musical programme was performed by the members of St. Peter's Choir and others.

We do not reckon success by dollars: but at the same time the question might be raised what support is given to the mission work by those who presumably are best-fitted by it? An answer to this question is found in the fact that the sum of $880 has been received from the weekly offertories in church and other money gifts; and the sum of $9.10 has been handed over by the captains and officers of steamers trading to Hongkong towards the support of the steam launch Dayspring and the Building Fund of the Kowloon Institute.

THE HONGKONG LAND INVESTMENT AND AGENCY COMPANY, LIMITED.

The following is the fourth report of the board of directors to the ordinary meeting of shareholders, to be held on Tuesday next:—

Gentlemen,—The directors have now to submit to you a general statement of the affairs of the Company, and balance sheet for the year ending 31st December, 1892.

The balance of profit and loss account for the year amounted to $241,424.71, out of which sum an interim dividend of $2 per share has already been paid. The directors therefore recommend the payment of a further dividend of $2 per share, making a total of $4 per cent. per annum on the paid-up capital, and after writing off $293.38 from the stationery account, together with the directors' and auditors' fees, there remains a balance of $35,656.33 to be carried forward to credit of new profit and loss account.

DIRECTORS.

Messrs. J. S. Moses and T. E. Davis retire by rotation, the former is eligible for re-election. Mr. T. E. Davis being absent from the Colony, Mr. J. S. Laprik has been invited to take his place, and his appointment now requires confirmation.

AUDITORS.

The accounts have been audited by Messrs. Fullarton Henderson and V. A. Cæsar Hawkins. The former offers himself for re-election, and it is proposed to elect Mr. H. E. R. Hunter in place of Mr. V. A. Cæsar Hawkins, who is shortly leaving the Colony.

HONGKONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The following is the seventh annual report for presentation at the yearly meeting to be held at the Hongkong Hotel this afternoon at half-past four:—

The Committee are pleased to be able to report that during 1892 the Association has done well, financially and otherwise.

The attendance at the weekly competitions has been the best for years past; liabilities outstanding at the end of 1891, to the amount of $76, have been wiped off; all accounts of 1892 settled; and a respectable cash balance remains in hand.

The Easter Meeting was not, as regard the All Comers events, nearly so largely attended as usual: the Members events, however, were well supported, Mr. A. Watson proving the winner of the N. R. A. Medal and Champion of the Association.

The best thanks of the Committee are tendered to the many donors of prizes at the Meeting.

During the year two Subscription Cups have been won outright:—

The Short Range Cup by Mr. W. Duncan.

The Long Range Cup by Mr. F. Howell.

Mr. Sassoon's Cup is still unwon and continues to attract good entries: three members have scored for it twice, Messrs. E. Robinson, Watson, and Warnock.

In the Interport Match between Shanghai, Singapore, and Hongkong, the Association again put the winning team into the field, but has twice been defeated by the "Shropshire."

Many of our Naval Members have gone home this year, the "Leanders" being especially missed; the Committee, however, hope that the new relicts will furnish the Association with an equal number of keen rifle shots.

ED. ROBINSON, Hon. Secretary.

A FRENCH HISTORY OF HONGKONG.

There is at present appearing in the columns of the Indépendance Tonkinoise a history of Hongkong which is remarkably well written and displays a close acquaintance with the annals and constitution of the Colony. At the present time a translation of the following reference to a previous period of commercial depression may be read with some interest:—

"Hongkong," wrote the French Consul in 1863, "thanks to its geographical situation, to its harbour capable of accommodating an immense number of vessels, to its security, to the freedom under which all transactions are conducted, to the absence of all customs dues, to the steam communication of which it is the centre, to the relative salubrity of its climate, has become the seat of a considerable traffic, the entrepôt of the South of China not only for the merchandise of Europe, America, and the Indies, but also for native goods."

From this time the future of Hongkong was assured and we need not further follow it step by step. We will note only the principal episodes of its subsequent commercial history.

It is an axiom of mechanics that every action is followed by a reaction of equal force. It is the same in affairs, but in the reactions all the ground is not lost, or progress would be impossible; but every period of activity is followed by a period of stagnation. Hongkong has proved no exception to the rule. The years 1864 to 1868 were unfortunate, not to say disastrous.

It must be acknowledged that after the advance which we have described, the colony, and, moreover, the whole of the European communities in China, were seized with a sort of madness. The American war had made China and India, especially the latter, the purveyors of cotton for the world. Consequently there was between those countries and Europe a perpetual movement of merchandise and commercial paper. Hongkong, situated as it is, was made the storehouse for enormous quantities of cotton, of tea, and of other goods. The Parsees from India brought to it considerable sums with which to carry on trade with Indo-China and China. Banks were established in excess of all requirements. In 1862 and 1863 Hongkong and Shanghai had five banks; in 1864 they counted eleven, and the competition became killing.

Thus the years 1865, 1866, and even 1867 were marked by financial disasters, both in Hongkong itself and in China, but always with an adverse effect on the business of Hongkong. Imprudent and unfortunate speculations in tea and landed property in the Yangtsze Valley and in Shanghai swallowed up nearly 150 million francs, and Hongkong, on its part, was badly hit. The rice trade with Siam and Saigon was restricted by a bad crop; the opium trade was languishing; the colony, pressed for money—for the home Government justly demanded a contribution of £20,000 for military expenses—adopted annoying fiscal measures, placing taxes on the natives and on commercial transactions (like stamp duty); and lastly, to fill the measure, the American war having terminated, the cotton trade was immediately suspended. The liquidation was painful—numerous bankruptcies, houses of the first rank compelled to suspend payment, Chinese leaving by thousands.

This state of affairs lasted throughout the whole of 1867 and continued even in 1868. The colony was exhausted and despondent, but—a characteristic sign—people in order to give themselves confidence, again commenced to speak of the natural advantages of Hongkong, "of its admirable situation which ought to place it at the head of the trade of China and Japan," when—a new coup de théâtre and new stroke of fortune, so prodigal towards this Colony—an event happened which was assuredly never foreseen by the colony's founders: the Suez Canal was opened, superseding the long route round the Cape, placing Hongkong within a month of Europe, and giving to the trade of the Far East an irresistible impulse.

Now all doubts were dissipated: Hongkong would live, Hongkong would be rich and powerful. She was still to have, like the rest of the commercial world, her ups and downs; she was to make mistakes, as she did in 1882 and 1883; she was to be affected by external events, such as the Franco-Chinese war in 1884; she was to engage in doubtful enterprises, such as the Praya Reclamation; she was to see, even at the Peak, the most desirable of the dearest part, land fall in price to 24 cents per square foot; but henceforth she was armed to the struggle, the future was hers.

THE HONGKONG REGIMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SIR,—Every person who has had a chance of seeing the new Hongkong Regiment is ready to agree that they are a fine body of men, but very few have had any chance of seeing them on parade, and their new uniforms have so far only seen the light on one occasion. It is true that a sample specimen may be seen every day doing guard duty at Headquarter Office, but his comrades are rarely in any uniform, being allowed to wander through the city in mufti, and very picturesque objects they usually are in their native garb. I think, however, the Commandant might have a full dress parade of the entire regiment on this side the water, or they might be marched through Queen's Road to West Point and back along the Bonham and Caine Roads. This would give the general public an opportunity of seeing their "Own Regiment," and it would at the same time serve as an object lesson to the roughs of Taipingshan. I would also suggest that a sham fight in Wong-nei-chasong Valley in which both Regiments—or even all the forces of the Garrison—might take part would be both good practice for the troops and a welcome entertainment to the colonists. Of course I am well aware that the troops are not here to minister to our amusement, but the colony is entitled—after doubling its military contribution—to at least have a look at its new defenders.—Yours faithfully,

MARS.

THE NEW ORIENTAL BANK CORPORATION.

In the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice on the 17th Dec., before Mr. Justice Vaughan Williams, sitting as an additional Judge of the Chancery Division, Mr. Pratt, a creditor of the above company, petitioned the Court for a compulsory winding-up order, notwithstanding that the company was being voluntarily wound up under the supervision of the Court. The petitioner appeared in person. It was urged on the former occasion when the case was before the Court there would be additional expense and delay if there was a compulsory winding up, and affidavits on this point had since been put in on behalf of the voluntary liquidator.

Mr. Justice Vaughan Williams, referring to this subject, said that it was entitled to great weight. Having looked into the affidavits, he said they had not removed the impression that there were matters which required to be looked into. It was necessary to save expense. On the other hand, the affidavit had not removed the impression that there were certain matters required looking into more vigorously. His lordship thought that Mr. Welton, having been auditor, was not perhaps the best person to conduct such inquiries. It was desirable to continue the liquidation under supervision provided proper steps could be taken to have these matters carefully gone into.

Sir Horace Davey (for the liquidator) submitted that no case had been suggested sufficient to justify a compulsory order. The voluntary liquidator wished to have a most complete investigation. He offered the petitioner a place on the Committee of creditors who are consulting with the creditors.

Mr. Pratt read a lengthy statement, urging that a compulsory order should be made. Replying to the learned Judge, he said he must decline to join the Committee, as he was getting old, and a certain amount of hostility would be sure to be exhibited against him.

The learned Judge, in the course of his judgment, said he should not make the order, and must dismiss the petition. He regretted that Mr. Pratt had not accepted the offer made to him, but at the same time thought the petition was one which had been reasonably presented. The result of it was that the attention of the Court had been called to matters which might require further examination and investigation. He would not, he said, pass judgment on Mr. Welton, the voluntary liquidator. No tangible suggestion of misconduct had been made against him, though it was suggested that an auditor of the bank's dividend paid before the winding up might not have been desired. His Lordship did not agree with certain views which he gathered from Mr. Welton's affidavit that Mr. Welton entertained as to the duties of an auditor. His Lordship did not think it was taking the true view of the duties of an auditor to arrive, from conversations with directors, at a conclusion whether a balance-sheet fairly represented the state of the bank's affairs. It was not for an auditor to consider the bona fides of directors, but to deal with the books of the company and with commercial details and figures—not to consider the honesty of its officers. If an auditor once embarked on such an inquiry he was apt, when he arrived at a conclusion, not to continue his investigations. The petition would be dismissed without costs, and the costs of the liquidator would be costs in the winding up.

NOTICE TO MARINERS, No. 23 (SPECIAL).

CHINA SEA.

SHANGHAI DISTRICT.

WOOSUNG INNER BAR.

"FEIMA CHANNEL": PRECAUTIONS TO BE TAKEN TO PREVENT COLLISIONS.

NOTICE is hereby given, That the depth in the fairway of the "FEIMA CHANNEL" for the passage between the Wreck of the S.S. Feima and the right or Pheasant Point bank of the river (as called) is at present greater by 2½ feet than the depth signalled for the line of the old Woosung Inner Bar Marks.

Two poles on the left or Western bank of the river—the low one, near the river, carrying a triangular mark, and the high one, farther inland, a diamond-shaped mark—when kept in line, indicate the fairway course through this new channel.

In order to facilitate traffic and prevent accidents it is recommended that the following Rules be observed by all Vessels approaching the Woosung Inner Bar:—

1.—Vessels intending to pass through the "Feima Channel" should hoist "V" of the International Code (a white flag with a red diagonal cross) at the fore; inward bound vessels to display it on passing the Woosung Spit Buoy, and outward bound ones to display it on passing the upper end of Gough Island.

2.—Not more than one vessel at a time should attempt to pass through the "Feima Channel" or over the shoalest part of the Bar, in the line of the old Bar Marks.

3.—Vessels approaching the bar when the signals show sufficient water for them to cross on the line of the old bar marks, should not use the "Feima Channel" but leave it free for larger vessels.

4.—A very careful look-out should be kept by all vessels approaching the Bar, and those having the tide against them should wait for those going with the tide to pass first; also a vessel overtaking another should regulate her speed so as to allow the one ahead to get clear of the Bar first.

As the bed of the river in the vicinity of the Bar is liable to frequent changes Captains and Pilots wishing to obtain the latest information as to depth of water, etc., should apply either at the Harbour Master's Office, Shanghai, or to the Berthing Officer in charge of the Woosung Signal Station.

HIOGO, JAPAN.

TO CAPITALISTS, SYNDICATES, HOTEL PROPRIETORS, AND OTHERS.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER.

ALL that property known as the HIOGO HOTEL, KOBE, JAPAN, with its unrivalled situation facing the Harbour of Kobe, the larger portion of the property, viz., that facing the sea, being held in perpetuity from the Japanese Government at a small (almost nominal) ground rent, and carrying with it the privilege of using the whole of the Beach in front of the Hotel down to low-water mark. In fact, the site of the Hotel is not surpassed in any Port in the East.
The Hotel Buildings have a sea frontage of 246 feet, and cover an area of 638 tsubo, equivalent to about 2,600 square yards, and in addition thereto, there are two lots in the rear, of 200 tsubo and 133 tsubo respectively, with the buildings thereon, held under Leases, expiring in one case in the year 1909, and in the other in 1911.
The Hotel was placed under new management on the 1st of August, 1892, with a very beneficial result, and the Purchasers of this Property would enter into possession of a valuable and improving business and an old established "going concern," and the existing accommodation is capable speedily, at a moderate outlay, of most extensive additions to provide for all Visitors to or from the "World's Fair" and others who intend making the tour of Japan.
The fullest inspection is invited.
The Liquidators of the Hiogo Hotel, Limited, call for Tenders for the purchase of the land and buildings comprising the above property.
All Tenders to be delivered at the Office of Mr. H. J. PEARCE, Solicitor, Kobe, Japan, on or before the 15th of FEBRUARY, 1893; the highest Tender not necessarily accepted.
